Re: Brandon Copeland v. Poliquin Performance Center 2, LLC, et. al.
Docket No. 1:19-cv-20278

Dear Judge Pascal:

This firm represents Caroleen Kandel and Poliquin Performance Center 2, LLC. The matter is currently scheduled for an in-person conference today, January 30, 2025. I write to respectfully request an opportunity to appear telephonically.

Essentially, I recently started taking a new medication to address some health issues that I have been dealing with for a period of time. Unfortunately, I have also been dealing with some side effects of the medication over the last couple of days. I had hoped that the side effects would subside by today, but unfortunately, it appears that they have not. Although I am confident that I can meaningfully participate in this conference, I am apprehensive about the travel in the event that this issue escalates.

I am happy to provide a doctor's note, if necessary. I anticipate that I will be needing, at the very least, a brief urgent care visit.

Thank you very much in advance for your time and consideration.

Respectfully Submitted,
